COMMUNITY

DYCD did not just change vendors. It disrupted ecosystems.

What kids actually lose when a long-running provider is removed without a transition plan.

Scan to take action

- MSAL and cross-school sports leagues mid-season.
- Theater, debate, band, and arts programs built over multiple years.
- Spelling bees, fencing, robotics, and other specialty clubs.
- Peer community across siblings and grade levels.
- Parent-coordinator and parent-staff relationships.
- Established dismissal, pickup, and snack routines.
- Cross-school cultural events that take years to build.
